I'm sure you've seen/and maybe even clicked on the links on Twitter and Facebook: What's Your Gangsta Name? Discover Your Superhero Name. Well, for those of you struggling to come up with a Scrum team name, I've come up with what I hope is an entertaining way to determine your ideal agile team name. Or at least a way to have a few laughs about what that name could be.

The formula is simple. And the results are simply Gucci (which according to the slang dictionaries out there means highly coveted, or just good).

Enjoy a little summertime fun! And please post your Scrum Team name in the comments below.
